

The magic library: plan

Behind the old, mahogany doors stood 'them'.

Thousands upon thousands stacked in neat rows, all arranged and alined back-to-back.

Dust collected everywhere as far as you could see, spider webs hung loosely around the ancient books, creating a trail of wonder and bewilderment within you, as you wonder how long it has been there for.

At the back of this historical place, was a prior painting of a recent relative who used to occupy this place, which was encased in a gold lining and quite clearly surrounded with books.

Above all, was a dome like no other containing a roof which has seen all the libraries good and bads, but most importantly all of its secrets.

Along the middle, there are many spherical shaped balls with different patterns on them and held of the ground with a gold ring –pot- which seems to also have been inherited from the past.

On the ground, layed a checkered pattern with a row of diamonds intervening between it which has also been littered with dirt and dust.

On the second floor of books there is a <what seems to look like, elevator which might lead to a secret pile of books that may or may not have belonged to an ancestor.

The magic library:

Dust collected everywhere as far as you could see, spider webs hung loosely around the backs of the ancient books, creating a trail of wonder and bewilderment within you, as you wonder how long it has been there for. At the back of this historical place –hung up on a wall- was a painting of a prior relative who used to occupy this place, which was encased in a gold lining and quite clearly surrounded with books.

Above all, was a dome, like no other it contained information about the libraries good and bads but most importantly all of its secrets. Along the middle there are many spherical shaped balls with different patterns on them and held of the ground with a gold ringed shaped pot, which has also seemed to be inherited from the past. Along the ground, layed a checkered pattern with a row of diamond intervening between them and also completely littered over with dirt and dust.

On the second floor of the library there seems to be of what looks like an elevator that may or may not have belonged to an ancestor who lived here. Although this is just a theory, no one may try and prove it as it is unknown what will happen to you whilst your there.
