REFLECTIVE DRAWING

GOLD - RIGHTS RESPECTING

Every week we would like you to reflect upon your learning.

This week we have chosen article 28 from the Convention.

After reading the article, we would like you to complete a drawing where you have considered your response carefully.

Article 28: I have the right to an education

Article 28 of the UNCRC says that children and young people have the right to education no matter who they are: regardless of race, gender or disability; if they're in detention, or if they're a refugee.

Children and young people have the right to both primary and secondary education and should be able to choose different subjects when in secondary school.

This should include the option of technical and vocational training, so they shouldn't have to focus on academic subjects if they don't want to.

Share a pencil day

This week we have linked our article with Share a Pencil Day. On this day, children in the UK will think about the millions of children around the world who are still unable to go to school or access the education they deserve.... why that is so important and how lucky we are in the UK to have great schools, teachers and friends.

What does this article make you think about?

Share a pencil day

For this week's reflective drawing, you have a task!

POSTER DESIGN

Think about what you enjoy and what you think is important about school. What do you want to tell others about the value of education for ALL CHILDREN.

On the next page we have given you a template, but you don't need to use it.

Can you explain to someone at home what you have drawn?

What words can you use?

Can you explain why you have drawn that?

Would you like to submit your drawing to The 'One and only Ordinary Book that opens for Extraordinary Work'? If so, click here
