LI: I can research and make notes on an artist's life

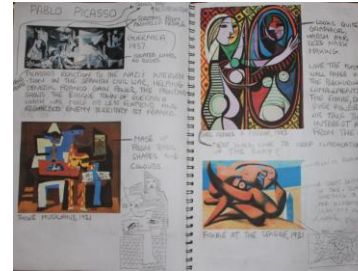

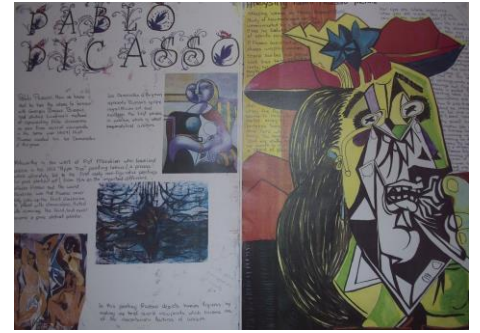

The photograph you have just looked at is of the artist Pablo Picasso. You are now going to research his life and work. Write down the important information you discover, but also include some small sketches of any work that interests you. If you have any colouring pencils at home, you could use these in your sketches. Consider the layout carefully so that you make your work interesting to read.

Use the following links to help you with your research.
