L1: I can describe how to show respect as an individual and as part of a community.

Look at the quote and image on the poster.

What do you think this quote means?

How does the image support the message?

Design another image that would support the message behind the quote.

Draw your new image and add the quote.

RE: Lesson 3

LI: I can describe how to show respect as an individual and as part of a community.

We have been thinking about the different communities that we belong to.

We are now going to focus on our local community, the area where we live.

How can we show that we respect our local community?

What could we improve in our local community that shows how we respect and value the community we live in?

Make a list of the issues we could address that would improve our local community and show respect to our environment.

RE: Lesson 3

LI: I can describe how to show respect as an individual and as part of a community.

Examples of the issues we could address are:

Litter                      traffic congestion around school                      parking on zig zag lines graffiti                      idling engines                      recycling                      anti social behaviour

For each issue think about the actions that we could take to improve our local area?

 Draw a table to record your ideas:

Issue	Actions
litter	Organise a litter pick. Put up posters. Have an assembly to raise awareness. Write a letter to the Ilford Recorder.

L1: I can describe how to show respect as an individual and as part of a community.

Choose one of the issues and actions you have included in your table.

Now plan your action in greater detail.

For example, If your action is an assembly to help reduce the amount of litter in the local area, create the slides that you would use. See below:

Think about:

How can members of a religious community, show that they respect the local community?

What could the local religious leaders and communities do to improve our local community?
