

After a minute, something shocking happened - she just disappeared and reappeared behind as his wife. He then became so thankful and relieved that she was truly his wife and gave a round of applause to himself being hypnotised by her blood red eyes. He did not even get a chance to mourn his family as the lady hypnotised him to look at her eyes. He felt that he could have seen his family but now it has been all too late – they are all long gone.

Unfortunately, this unnamed man was not a gullible person but because of the lady's hypnotism, the man was compelled to follow her orders and could not resist looking away from her eyes. He opened the door enough to let the chubby lady inside the house. The unlucky man had to greet this insane lady inside the house, still thinking that it was his wife standing there.

It all started more than three decades ago...

Something unexpected happened when this man was born in hospital. Some robotic voice spoke over the tannoy in the hospital telling them not to name that baby or else evil will hit the baby's family. The hospital and family thought it was a trivial thing to believe so they just ignored it but they did not name the child and kept a private name that kept changing every month. The hospital had no idea who was speaking over the loud speaker, so they just thought it is a joke and carried on with their normal lives in letting the baby grow and leave the hospital.

When the young child came out of nursery after a couple of years to go home, his dad said to him that Maria (his wife) has gone crazy about this very creepy lady she sees in the garden at night. Maria also said that there was a crucifix on her neck. They called a Saint to have a look in the garden who told them not to enter the other side of the shed, but put a massive wall with a door. "Make sure you NEVER EVER open the door or evil will inherit your family!" said the saint.

A door? Why would the Saint put a door?

Five years later...

One day Laura (the boy's sister) asked Maria whether she could go to the garden and play. Her mother forgot to remind her not to go to the other side of the garden, and that the door should never be opened. Unfortunately, Laura turned the key and opened the door that lead to the dark side. Recognizing that she had just opened the evil, she instantly closed the door, but it was all too late. The evil had already entered the house.

For some reason Laura kept speechless about her opening the door. When she came inside, she ran to the bathroom and told her mother she was in the toilet. Her mother pondered about what she was doing in the toilet for so long. Her mother shouted at her, "Hurry up sweetie; you will miss your dance classes."

After an hour, Maria took a screwdriver and unlocked the door. What she saw was terrifying. She then closed the door and told her husband, "Why don't we have a barbecue tomorrow as my daughter would taste lovely?"

"Good idea as I have never tasted human flesh before," replied her husband.

The next day the family had a great evening but Laura's brother was ready for revenge, as he knew his parents were somewhere...

Now the story continues...
