Take a silly and embarrassing photo and share it with his friends on an app which says it will delete it once it has been viewed.
Share a video of Selfie playing a song. He wants to share it on Selfie's page. Only people they know offline, like friends at school and family, will be able to see it.

Activity 2: Who to trust

Let us see who you would trust and why.

In this activity you follow the life of a girl called Arooj. She has two friends, one she met at school and one she met in an online group. You must read the descriptions of the two friends and answer the following questions: Who would you trust more and why? Who does Arooj know more about and why?

Bailey.

My name is Bailey. I met Arooj in an online group about animals. Our friendship sparked when we found out that we both love penguins. I told her that I would take her to the zoo one day so we can go see penguins together. Me and Arooj have everything in common, which makes her happy. She has never met anybody that likes the same things as her. I told her to keep quiet about our friendship because some people might be jealous.

Alice.

My name is Alice. I've known Arooj from when we were little. We have always been in the same classes together at school. However, we're the complete opposites. She likes penguins, I prefer tigers and lions. She likes maths and acting, I prefer sports and science. Although we are very different, she's my best friend. We talk to each other about everything. Our parents arrange us to go to each others house at least once a week to play.

- Explain who Arooj knows more and why?
