REFLECTIVE DRAWING

Every week we would like you to reflect upon your learning.

This week we have chosen article 14 from the Convention.

After reading the article, we would like you to complete a drawing where you have considered your response carefully.

UNCRC Article 14

I have the right to have my own thoughts and beliefs and to choose my religion with my parents' guidance

Article 14 of the UNCRC says that children and young people are free to be of any or no religion. Their parents can help them make decisions around religion, but:

- a parent can't force a child or young person to adopt a religion
- a parent can't force a child or young person to stop following a religion

No Religious Discrimination

Children and young people shouldn't be discriminated against because of their religion. They should be treated the same as everyone else, no matter what they believe.

UNCRC Article 14

I have the right to have my own thoughts and beliefs and to choose my religion with my parents' guidance

Freedom of thought

Article 14 also covers the right to freedom of thought. This is the right of a person to have their own ideas, thoughts, opinions and beliefs—and for nobody to be able to stop them from holding them. A person has the right to keep their beliefs private, and shouldn't be forced to reveal them.

Do you know what symbols are linked with these religions? Have a go at drawing them if you can.

What does this article make you think about?

What images could you draw?

What colours could you use?

What shapes? Patterns? Lines? Vocabulary?

Are there ways that you can respect and support students in our school that may have different beliefs to you? Can you show this in a drawing?

Can you explain to someone at home what you have drawn?

What words can you use?

Can you explain why you have drawn that?

How does it relate to the article?

Maybe you would like to share this in your Google Meet session.
