Activity 1: Great Games

ALFIE'S STORY...

Someone I was gaming with kept sending me messages that made me feel uncomfortable. I told my mum. She helped me block them so now they can't message me anymore.

Alfie and his friends decided to create some rules for playing games safely online, but all the advice for each rule got mixed up. Can you help put the rules back in the right place?

Rules:

1. Be kind to others
2. Be careful what you share
3. Choose who you can chat to
4. Keep your stuff private
5. Things we see online
6. Play online games safely

Below are the mixed up pieces of advice. Match the advice to the rule. One has been done for you:

Rule	Advice to match the rule
Be kind to others	Think before you share: avoid posting anything that could upset someone else.
Be careful what you share
Choose who you can chat to
Keep your stuff private
Things we see online
Play online games safely

Advice:

- If a gamer you don't know in real life asks you to join them on another game, app or website, don't reply, and tell an adult you trust.
- If someone is being mean, block them and tell an adult you trust. You can also report them to the website or app. Ask an adult for help with this.
- Think before you share: who might see your photo, video or live stream? It's safest just to share your stuff with family and friends you know in real life.
- Make sure apps, games and websites don't tell other people your location. Ask an adult to help you switch off the location setting on your phone, tablet or computer.
- If someone you don't know in real life asks you to share a photo or video or go on camera, don't reply, and tell an adult you trust.
- Never share personal information (e.g. your phone number, school or where you live) with other gamers.
- It's safer to chat to people you know in real life.
- Take control of who sees your stuff: ask an adult to help you change the Privacy Settings on your accounts.
- Keep your passwords secret. Never write them down or tell any of your friends. If you think someone has found out your password, change it.
- Remember you can't always believe everything you see online. Even photos can be fake! Ask a teacher, family member or friend to suggest websites you can trust.
- If something you see online makes you feel upset, uncomfortable or even a bit confused, don't look at it again or send it to anyone else. Tell an adult you trust, who will be able to help you.
- Worried that someone has shared something hurtful about you? Ask an adult you trust to help you.
- It's always ok not to reply. If a message makes you feel worried, annoyed or upset, don't reply and tell an adult you trust.
- It's safest to games with friends you know in real life.
- If someone you are chatting to is being mean or making you feel uncomfortable, tell an adult you trust. They will help you block and report them so that they can't contact you again.

Alfie and the Gamer

Someone Alfie doesn't know has messaged him asking him to play a game. The gamer keeps saying things to try to make him play and Alfie is feeling uncomfortable. Can you help Alfie by writing down the different ways the gamer is trying to get him to play?

Activity 2: Great Reflection:

Over the past several weeks, you have watched safety videos, had many discussions, created posters offering advice and hopefully have learned a lot. Now, you are going to write a summary of the 5 top tips you have learned about online safety.

Go back through your online safety lessons and identify 5 key points you have learned and remember. Explain how they can help keep you safe. When you are done, share your work with an adult.
